FOOD CITY SELLING E10 AT MOST GAS 'N GO'S Now Citizens in Thirteen East Tennessee Counties Have at least One Option for Purchasing This Ethanol Blend that Any Gas Vehicle Can Use

Abingdon, VA - The Food City supermarket stores located in East Tennessee have switched to offering a 10 percent blend of ethanol in all three grades of their gasoline at their branded "Gas 'N Go" refueling stations. The blend, called E10, offers today's gasoline vehicle owners a way to direct a small portion of the money they pay for gasoline back into the United States and help support American-made fuels and American farmers.

Any gasoline vehicle can use E10. All of the world's automakers support (and in many cases encourage) the use of E10 in their gasoline vehicles.

With Food City now offering more American fuels at their 27 East Tennessee "Gas 'N Go" stations, many more East Tennesseans now have a choice for using cleaner-burning fuels. Twelve counties in East Tennessee now have at least one location where E10 can be purchased. Sullivan, Washington, Sevier, Knox and Jefferson counties now have three or more choices for purchasing E10 while Hawkins and Cocke counties have two locations. Knoxville alone has four locations.

See the list of all the "Gas 'N Go" stations where E10 can be purchased on the next page.

Whitney Canada, fuel procurement coordinator for K-VA-T Food Stores--the parent company of Food City--says, "this gives us the opportunity to help our customers make good choices for their country and their vehicles."

Jonathan Overly of the East Tennessee Clean Fuels Coalition says, "now East Tennesseans have more options for refueling their vehicles. For those that want to be proactive and help drive demand for American fuels, they can utilize their local 'Gas 'N Go's. It gives the larger gasoline vehicle-driving community a way to do something about our current dependence on unfriendly and unstable regimes around the world for the petroleum that drives our country. No matter what percentage it is, I'd rather give my money to an American farmer than to Hugo Chavez in Venezuela or another prince in Saudi Arabia. We need that funding in the United States for jobs creation and to work toward cleaner fuels in our areas that have air pollution problems."

Food City operates a total of 98 stores in the Kentucky-Virginia-Tennessee area, and of those 10 in Virginia and five in Kentucky have Gas 'n Go stations that offer E10 as well.
